SUNSHINE SCHOOLERS

Terms & Conditions

Flexible Homeschool Week • Personal-use license

Your permitted use

You may edit this planner and print or save copies for your own personal use, your household or homeschool, or the students in one classroom you teach. Reuse it as often as you like within that scope.

Please keep the files and link private

Do not share, upload or distribute the original files, editable templates or template-access link to other households, teachers, groups or public websites. Share the Sunshine Schoolers website so others can obtain their own copy.

No resale or redistribution

Do not sell, sublicense, give away or include this resource in another product, bundle or membership. These restrictions also apply to modified versions. Do not claim the original resource as your own.

Design and third-party rights

This license permits use of the resource; it does not transfer ownership of the original design. Any third-party fonts or assets remain subject to their owners' licenses. Using Canva is subject to Canva's own terms.

Make it work for your family

This is a planning tool, not a curriculum or a guarantee of educational results. Check assignments, page numbers and any AI-assisted suggestions before use. You are responsible for your educational choices and applicable requirements.

Additional permissions

For school-wide, co-op, multi-teacher or other uses outside this license, obtain written permission from Sunshine Schoolers first. These terms do not limit rights that cannot legally be excluded.

Thank you for supporting a small homeschool business.
